Ford Asked to Buy Williamsburg, Va.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 1.—Henry Ford has been asked to buy Williamsburg, ancient capital of Virginia, and restore to it the quaint and picturesque beauty of the Revolutionary period. It then would be preserved as a living lesson in American history for future generations.

The suggestion, which Mr. Ford is said to be considering, was advanced by Dr. W. A. R. Goodwin, of William and Mary College, through William Ford, brother of the automobile manufacturer.

Under the plan Mr. Ford would purchase a large part of the present city of Williamsburg, at an estimated cost of between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000. A Colonial Holding Corporation then would be formed, according to Dr. Goodwin's suggestion, to which the city would be turned over for all time. The task of re-creating the colonial seat of government would go forward under the direction of the holding corporation. All evidences of modern days would be removed. Motion picture houses, restaurants, telephone poles, and all the trade marks of the present day would exist no more.

In the place of today's Williamsburg, there would stand the House of Burgess, rebuilt as it originally stood. Raleigh Tavern once more would stand with inviting door for the traveler. Main street again would be lined with myrtle trees and hedged by reds. Shacks would be given way to copies of the colonial houses which formerly occupied their sites. It is not planned to compel present owners of old colonial homes to sell them to the corporation, but options would be requested in view of future sales.

Dr. Goodwin, who for years has been interested in the preservation of the remaining marks of Virginia colonial history, is quoted as follows: "For some time I have cherished the hope that Mr. Ford might be and doubtless would be interested in making a contribution to the United States of the old colonial capital of Virginia."

Williamsburg was associated with all the great debates, resolutions and actions which resulted in the establishment of our federal government. It is distinctly the most interesting colonial relic which now remains in America, and should be rescued and preserved. Unless something is done within the next few years, it will be too late.

HOTEL PATRONS FAIL TO LEAVE ADDRESSES

Many are the travelers who stop at the Burton Hotel and who leave a forwarding address. As a result the letters are returned in most cases to the sender, if he put his address on the upper left hand corner of the envelope.

As many as 30 or 40 letters a week have to be returned to their senders. J. C. Woodruff, clerk at the Burton, said Woodruff fills out a blank post card, which has space for the addressee's name and reasons for non-delivery of the mail. He forwards this card to the sender.

In most cases, the sender instructs that the mail be returned to him.

"LITTLE JESSIE JAMES"

To receive the unanimous endorsement of the New York critics now-a-days a musical comedy has got to be good, for with the annual production of Siegfried's "Follies," George White's "Scandals," and Fred Stone's "Stopping Stones," most of the reviewers are inclined to draw comparisons. So when L. Lawrence Weber offered the musical comedy sensation "Little Jessie James" to metropolitan playgoers "at season without a star" he was giving the work of Harlan Thompson and Harry Acher the acid test. Mr. Thompson wrote the book and lyrics and Mr. Archer the music and when "Little Jessie James" became the outstanding success of the theatrical season in New York it was indeed a triumph for both of these authors and when "Little Jessie James" comes to the Majestic Theatre Tuesday Nov. 11th, there is a real treat in store for local theatregoers for Mr. Weber has mounted the play prodigally; there is excellent company and the smart-chorus of youth and charm seen on a local stage in a long time. Mr. Weber believes, too, in having good music well played and to that end has engaged a Paul Whiteman Band to play Mr. Archer's music during the performance and render a Jazz concert during the intermission. The band, a feature in itself, composed of the best musicians obtainable in New York will have one of the most popular scores to play that has been written in recent years. The song hit "I Love You," now being sung in thirty-two different languages and bids fair to become more popular than "After the Ball" is such a thing as possible. The well trained musicians under the direction of Mr. Whiteman consist of piano, first and second violin, saxophone solo, Clarinet, cello, bass, banjo, oboe, euphonium, saxophone solo, Trombone.

"Little Jessie James" created just as big an impression in Chicago at the Garrick Theatre as it did in New York and ran for six months to capacity business there. It is a delightful farce set to tinkling tunes, telling a merry story of romance and fun with its scintillating lines, a fitting accompaniment to the clever situations—plot and the entire musical score is of the "first class" sort. That is so plain to the American ear, in fact "Little Jessie James" may be justly termed the genuine American musical comedy.

BIG CAST FOR SWANSON

That Paramount believes in surrounding Gloria Swanson with the best screen talent available is amply demonstrated in her new Paramount picture, "Manhandled," which will be the chief attraction at the Broadway Monday and Tuesday.

Tom Moore, one of the best liked and most popular of screen actors, is Gloria's leading man. Those who have had an advance peep at the picture claim that his portrayal of the poor garage mechanic is his greatest performance. Ann Pennington and Brooke Johns, most famous of the Ziegfeld Follies stars, are also in the picture.

MISS TAYLOR SELECTED AS ANAESTHETIST AT EDMUNDS

Miss Sallie Taylor, of Memphis, Tenn., arrived in Danville Saturday, having accepted the position of anaesthetist at Edmunds hospital. Miss Taylor will enter upon the duties of her position there today. She is a graduate in anaesthesia of the Lakeside hospital, Cleveland, O., and was chosen because of her qualifications and witness for the position here.

ALL THE BEAUTIES OF ROME IN BIG FILM

"It's like throwing a spotlight upon the sun."

That was the declaration of George Fitzmaurice, noted motion picture producer, when he tried to express his high opinion of the cast which Lionel Barrymore, Bert Lytell, Richard Bennett and Montagu Love.

At The Broadway Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

"Eternal City," a First National picture which comes to the Broadway next Wednesday. He had attempted to find words sufficiently adequate, but had floundered, seeking refuge in the phrase quoted above.

And, in our opinion, it would be rather like painting the lily to try to Fitzmaurice, noted motion picture producer, when he tried to express his high opinion of the cast which Lionel Barrymore, Bert Lytell, Richard Bennett and Montagu Love.

"The Eternal City" was adapted from the novel by Sir Hall Caine, and was filmed entirely in Italy.

Love Is Always Changing and New

BY EDNA PURDY WALSH

Any gentle reader who is not interested in love will be excused, without perjury, from reading this article and the ones following in series. Now, don't crowd.

Love is probably the most interesting thing in the world, and it has been called the greatest. It is instinctive in our bodies and tied up with nature's great system. It is the support of the mind's most imposing accomplishments. It is of such potent spiritual effect that science, religion and sentiment alike make it a cornerstone in their theories of immortality.

And love is always changing and new. Love is the name for it when the club-wielding Neanderthal drags home his bride by her hair, when the traditional Victorian belle faints at a proposal and when the flapper stages a petting party in a flapper.

Love in the light of modern research is a matter of psychology, biology and chemistry.

New Study of Love
These are the viewpoints from which the present analysis is to be approached. It may be impossible even by intentional striving, to exclude romance, and such exclusion certainly would produce a barren result if accomplished. But the study should be at least "different" whether compared to the old-fashioned "love-learn" column or to Solomon's Song of Songs.

It pays to study love. The knowledge carries understanding of life itself. Its individual application should bring happiness, sympathy, courage, hope and the avoidance of fatal pitfalls.

What is the experience called love? It is only people in respect to their to become united in soul and mind and body. In its completeness and perfection, each element of this triple union is indispensable.

Too often we try to approach one another's spirits and minds, which alone can give true and lasting companionship, through the caresses of the body. The greatest of secrets on love, Emanuel Swedenborg, reveals that process and says true love begins inwardly, in the spirit, and extends outward, "even unto the physical." Always a search.

We may love each other on only two or one of the sides of this triangular pattern of love, and a sweet, helpful and friendly marriage may result. But always there will be that restless searching for the mate to the other part of the self which is not matched in the chosen partner.

How to recognize the mate who responds to the triple need, how to attract and unite with that proper mate, these are the vital questions. Equipped with today's knowledge, we may stride out confidently to answer them.

Next Week: "LOVE CAN NOT BE COMMANDED."

DANISH RADIO FANS PLEAD FOR SUPPORT

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 1.—Danish radio fans, numbering 50,000 who have sent a plea to the government to do something to aid them, in Denmark, have received a polite reply that at the present moment the government has no intention of taking any action. The Danish amateurs were hitherto not organized enough to bring influence to bear on the government's view, but are now planning a big bloc with the purpose of forcing the officials to change their attitude. Denmark is one of the most handicapped European countries, since the state telegraph has the wireless completely tied up.

VIENNA—According to a report from Paris, the ex-Empress Zita, through her brother, Prince Sixte of Parma, has approached the French government with a view to ascertaining whether the Supreme Council would grant permission to her, her children and her small suite to move from Lequeitio, in Spain, to France, in which eventually Zita would take up her residence at Chambord, the Bourbons' castle by the river Loire.

SETS AIRPLANE AFIRE AND DRIFTS TO EARTH

By Universal Service
PARIS, Nov. 1.—How would you like to go up in an airplane and set it on fire?

A man lives in Paris who likes it a lot and proves it. To date he has made five ascents in an ordinary airplane, and each time he has set fire to his motor, and then extinguished the blaze.

Henri Bechard is his name. He is the inventor of a process which, as soon as an airplane catches fire, automatically closes the gasoline outlet, cuts the spark, and throws by compressed air great jets of extinguishing chemicals all over the machine.

Another inventor has demonstrated an airplane, which, when the motor catches fire, breaks in half. The fuselage, with the pilot, then turns into a parachute, and while the flaming motor crashes to earth the tail gracefully floats to earth without damage.

The trials are held under the auspieces of the French government.

FILMS OF SEA 12,000 FLEET DOWN TO BE MADE

(World-Wide News Service, Inc.)
ROME—Moving pictures of submarine life at a depth of 12,000 feet will be made during a world-tour, with mainly scientific objects, which is being organized by Commander Attilio Gatti, the noted explorer. The tour will last three years, and is expected to cover more than 80,000 miles.

Commander Gatti has been assured by Signor Mussolini of the Government's support, and the Duke of Pistoia and another member of the royal family are likely to join the party.

The deep-sea films, which will be taken with the new Maggioni-Mascagatti apparatus, are expected to revolutionize oceanography. Other plans for the expedition are salvage operations near Cape Guardafui, Somaliland, where a number of ships sank many years ago, and big-game hunting in Equatorial Africa.

There will also be a motor-car tour through Persia, Bokhara, Turkestan, Afghanistan, and Beluchistan, as far as the Gobi desert, and unknown regions of New Guinea will be explored.

AND NOW THE VERDICT

Thus comes to an end the strangest presidential campaign in American history.Tomorrow the American people will render their decision upon the course of national government for the next four years.It will be in many respects the most important decision this nation has made in decades, and its effect upon the political future of the nation will be far-reaching.The issues are known to all who are not blind to see and deaf to hear.
They have been repeatedly presented to the electorate, openly, convincingly and without mincing of words.
They have been expounded from the platform, through the columns of the newspapers and by radio to every man and woman who has a vote to cast at the polls.The presentment has not been made by the present occupant of the White House, who is president in name of this republic, and to whom the nation reasonably could have expected to look for words of enlightenment and explanation. Like a dumb mannikin which has neither voice nor impulse to action, this man who occupies his office by accident of death has remained as silent as the tomb except on a few occasions when the words he uttered were so devoid of intelligent reasoning that they passed unheeded, if not unheard, the country over.As a sequel to his course of indiference when a crisis loomed in the government as a result of wholesale revelations of graft and perjury and rascality in his own administration, his impotency as a candidate is most fitting. He has not contributed a thought to one issue in this campaign. He has spread not a single ray of light upon his future plans if elected. He has remained not the silent man his campaign managers have endeavored to have the country think, but that synonym of silent, dumb.While John W. Davis has given the country a definite plain and frank draft of his attitude on every vital issue of the campaign, this occupant of the White House by the trace of God has said nothing—has remained no silent, but dumb.While John W. Davis was pledging himself to an honest administration of the government, Calvin Coolidge remained not silent but dumb.While John W. Davis pledged himself to a foreign policy that this nation need not be ashamed of, the Republican candidate for president remained not silent, but dumb.While John W. Davis pledged himself to efforts for tax reduction and a reduction in the present iniquitous tariff, the president of the United States remained not silent, but dumb.Realizing the utter unfitness of their candidate for the office which he now holds and to which they seek to elect him for the next four years, the Republican campaign managers have kept him carefully secluded in the White House, away from the public gaze and judgment, while they have frantically proclaimed the imminent decline of the stars in the

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.

"Stick to The Job"

This is a talk about my friend George B. Dealey, publisher of a meritorious Southern newspaper, whose Golden Anniversary of 50 years continuous service with the owners of this paper was celebrated the other day.

Briefly: George B. Dealey was born in England. He started as office boy with a newspaper organization at the age of 14. Today he is president of this same organization; and he is honored with degrees and titles that it would take the space of this Talk to enumerate.

This is the motto that has made George B. Dealey one of the great publishers and public servants of this country: "Stick To The Job."

The influence of Mr. Dealey and his paper is felt all over the South and Southwest. He publishes a clean, fearless newspaper, with ideals uppermost. Mr. Dealey has grown up with his State by helping to make his State grow up. His paper has reader strength. This follows naturally from leader strength.

Mr. Dealey is an inspiring man who believes in human beings. In his organization there are 40 people who have been with him 21 years or more. That is one of the explanations of Mr. Dealey.

When the writer of this Talk started in his business nearly 20 years ago, Mr. Dealey gave him great encouragement and he was one of the first newspapers to do business with him. I remember how promptly the checks came in and although I couldn't read his signature, I knew by its looks that it was as good as though Uncle Sam had signed it. Checks that came in promptly in those days were like the rays of sun from Heaven to a starving plant.

You who read this newspaper from day to day owe to such splendid men as George B. Dealey a great debt of gratitude. All America does.

From office boy to President! You see it worked—and always will.

"Stick to the Job."

THE REFEREE

By Albert Apple

BOOZE

In three years Uncle Sam's sleuths have arrested 177,000 for violating the prohibition law. That's 59,000 a year—or one out of every 1900 Americans. Which certainly is a very small fraction of the sellers and drinkers.

Prohibition cannot be successful until the campaign against liquor is rational, rather than an abstract plea to obey the law. The educational campaign was dropped too soon.

IN TOXICATING

How much alcohol makes a beverage intoxicating? Any step to "ease" the prohibition regulations will hinge on this question. Possibly a scientific clinic will result, to test the effects of liquor on people. Prescription would hardly be necessary. Intoxication depends on the drinker. A hyper-thyroid person, virtually immune to stimulants, gets less drunk on a whole pint of brandy than a normal man on half of two drinks.

SHRINKING

American railroads have about 250,000 miles of tracks. In eight years there was a shrinkage of over 4000 miles. With the country growing, the railroads should be extending instead of abandoning trackage. Yet even a greater transportation problem is in inadequacy of terminals, particularly for freight. The trouble is less in the haul than in loading and unloading and switching where traffic congests in cities.

SCOPOLAMIN

The "truth serum" (scopolamin) is a success. It's claimed at convention of Eastern Society of Anesthetists. This drug, to make people tell the truth whether they want to or not, is a humane form of third-degree.

After reading the list of income taxes paid by some of America's sumptuously rich men, we suggest that scopolamin be administered before swearing to the truthfulness of an income tax report. That is not beyond possibility.

JAY-WALKERS

A safety-first official in New York defends jay-walking. He says arresting a jay-walker is trespassing on liberty. "The pedestrian has the right to the highways, whereas it is only a privilege for vehicular traffic to operate upon the highways."

This is ridiculous. A pedestrian's rights, if we are going to be practical, are limited to sidewalks from which autos are barred and crossings where streets intersect. He has no more business on the pavement than crossing trains than he has on railroad tracks. Trespassing, he invites accident.

One of these debutantes tells us getting married is even more serious than joining a lodge.

Have you ever kissed a girl whose teeth stick out too far? If you haven't, then don't.

Ho hum! It's a funny world. People who should be happy are not and those who shouldn't be are.

Denver woman wants a divorce from an inventor. We knew a few inventors so don't blame her.

The saddest thing about life is it takes 50 years for young people to learn what they should know.

Well, the Shenandoah has crossed from the front page of the newspaper to the other and from the first page to the last.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

Duty

I am not bound by conscience to attend to the duties of a man who has no duty beyond his strength or gift of skill.

To plant my banner on a higher hill
Than those whereon my neighbors proudly leave

Their standard—then the sun sinks down at the end.

I hear no voice that urges greater will

Or bids me strive for larger conquests still

And vaster fortunes, blind to all who strive beyond my strength or gift of skill.

But something in my soul commands me thus:

"Keep faith with God and man and play the friend!"

I need not the cry of fame vociferous,
But keep his gentler manners to the end.

Let others find in you those nobler things
Which self-sought glory very seldom brings."

The Beginning of a Beautiful Friendship

The Affair at Flower Acres

© 1924 by NEA Service Inc. WELLS

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Douglas Raynor is found shot through the heart in the early evening on the floor of the sun room of Flower Acres, his Long Island home. Standing over the dead man, pistol in hand, is Malcolm Finley, former sweetheart of Raynor's wife, Nancy. Eva Turner, Raynor's nurse, stands by the light switch. In a moment Nancy appears, a white-faced and terrified. Orville Kent, Nancy's brother, comes in from the south side of the room. And then Ezra Goddard, friend of Finley, Miss Matthe, Raynor's sister, and at last, upon the scene, Detective Dobbins heads the police investigation. An autopsy reveals that Raynor also was being systematically poisoned with arsenic by his father's estate. Finley accuses Grimshaw Gannon, a hired man, of hiding the original will which favors Nancy.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"The copy was found in your house."

"That doesn't prove the original is there."

"It proves that it may be," and Finley watched closely the changing countenance of the man.

"Maybe a long way off," Gannon said.

He puzzled Finley, and Goddard, too, was at a loss just how to take him.

But as if by inspiration, Finley said, suddenly, "Oh, of course you don't know anything about it. But we can get all necessary information from Peter—the other witness."

"Peter's—Gannon's face fell. "You don't know where he is."

"Don't we?"

"We do. Now, here's your last chance, Gannon. This from Goddard. "Do you want to come clean about the will—take your chances on getting into trouble over the thing?"

Gannon considered. He looked from one to the other, and shrewdly, including them were—partly, at least.

"I'll take my chances," he said, and resumed his pipe.

And an amount of further cajoling, threatening or argument could gain any more information from him.

MARRIED HIM AT YOUR FATHER'S ORDERS, EH?

"Yes—I have known of two cases."

"And in either case would you have believed that that woman would kill her husband?"

"I would not! I could scarcely believe it after I knew it was the truth."

"That's the answer," said Dobbins. "Now you knew that the Raynors were not happy together, didn't you?"

"Nobody could be happy with that man. I don't see why she ever married him."

"Probably for his money."

"It must have been."

"Now, here's another point, Doctor. That nurse he had. Why did he have her?"

"Oh, Raynor was a diet crank—there are lots of them nowadays. She was a dietitian, and she pandered to his fads and fancies."

"Is that all there was to it?"

"So far as I know. What do you mean?"

"I didn't altogether like the looks of that nurse. I didn't like the way she looked at Mrs. Raynor."

"Jealous?"

"Vindictive, rather. She bore Mrs. Raynor no good will—of that I'm

TRY THIS ON SOME TIME

A very successful way of making a husband stay home at night is to stay there with him.

Scoop's Colyum

(DRAKES' BRANCH, November 2.)

(Grapevine Wireless.)—Sure, we auto-have some political speaking in Danville. Hunter, McGuire saw the election everywhere else that the people are actually fighting,

yet we can't get up even an argument! The trouble may be that we haven't got our mind on our business. Like the lady who went to the dentist:

The dentist had finished work on Mrs. Albert-son's (correct name withheld for safety reasons)

back tooth and had handed her a mirror in order that she might observe the result. Then he went on with his talk with respect to the teeth, repeating his performance with the mirror when each tooth had been filled. Finally, when the job was complete, and she handed back

the mirror, he said: "Well, madam,

how do they look to you?"

"How do they look to me?" she repeated.

"Yes, the teeth I have just filled."

"Oh, I forgot about the teeth!" she exclaimed reaching for the mirror.

"What do they look to each time

I gave you the mirror?"

"Why, my hair, of course!"

Inspired by the sight of barber shops all filled with girls on Saturday night, a Danville man has conceived

a great idea. He has invented a safety razor so compact so that a man can fix up his face on the street corner as the women do.

All three parties are claiming the election by decisive majorities, so we'll find out who are the biggest liars about day after tomorrow.

No Democrat has a valid excuse to buck the ticket this year and every last member of the party auto vote early and often. The Republican party is on trial before the country and many of the reasons have been confessed; the job will be finished when the great American jury brings in its verdict tomorrow night.

John W. Davis is the biggest man

the country has produced since

Woodrow Wilson. He has a great great president is admitted by all parties. BE SURE TO VOTE AND

SEE THAT YOUR NEIGHBOR

DOES LIKEWISE!

Come down to The Bee's entum tomorrow night and hear the return.

The telephone will be busy bringing in the news from far and wide, so don't get sore if "central" reports the line busy when you call up right after —er to find out who's elected.

That's What They All Say!

A certain Danville man had the habit of leaving his umbrella at the office.

One morning as he was going to business, he sat next to a young woman in the trolley car. As he rose to get out, he absently picked up her umbrella. She said, "Pardon me, but this is mine."

He was quite embarrassed. That night he decided to take all of his umbrellas home with him. He had said this same young woman. She leaned forward as he passed, and said in a low tone, "I see you did pretty well today, after all."

Aint It Awful.

Coleman Dalton tells this one. It was late at night. "No one seemed to be about and the poor woman was very seash. She thought if she could just get up to the deck a few minutes the fresh air would do her good. So, in her nightgown, she was crawling up the stairs when she met an equally sick man coming down.

She gave a feeble scream of embarrassment and said, "I see you did

pretty well today, after all."

Got Her Money's Worth.

A young lady recently advertised for a husband. A man in a neighboring community answered the advertisement and the two were married. About two weeks after the wedding the young husband took sick and died, leaving the bride a big farm and $5,000 in life insurance.

If that little fellow add didn't bring her home, remarks The Bee,

"we give it up."

Hard On The Town.

The conductor and a brakeman on a Montana railway, as late as to the conductor of the name Eurlar.

Passengers are often startled upon arrival at this station to hear the conductor yell:

"You're a liar! You're a liar!"

Then the brakeman, "You really are!

You really are!"

Barnum was too conservative. He might truthfully have said: "The public insists upon being fooled."

Notice to Parrot Owners.

Young man: Sir, I would like to marry your daughter.

Proud father: My boy, do you think you are experienced enough to meet the trials of married life?

Yes, sir. I own a Ford and a parrot.

To be an object of envy a fellow has to do something occasionally.

FORD SALES REACH A NEW HIGH MARK

Sales of Ford cars and trucks in the United States alone for the first nine months of 1924 reached the enormous total of 1,600,000, the greatest domestic retail delivery record in the history of the Ford Motor Company for a similar period of months. It represents an increase of 11 per cent. over the record of 1,443,918 cars and trucks sold during the same months in 1923.

Dealer reports from practically all parts of the country show increases over last year, so that all are sharing in the general prosperity.

The Lincoln division of the Ford Motor Company set a new sales record during the first nine months of 1924, dealer reports show.

From January 1 to October 1, a total of 5,558 Lincoln cars were delivered at retail in the United States, marking an increase of 25 per cent. in sales over the same months of last year.

He—Would you say "Yes" if I asked you to marry me?

She (still more cautiously)—Would you ask me to marry you if I would say "Yes"? If you asked me to marry you?

Rheumatism

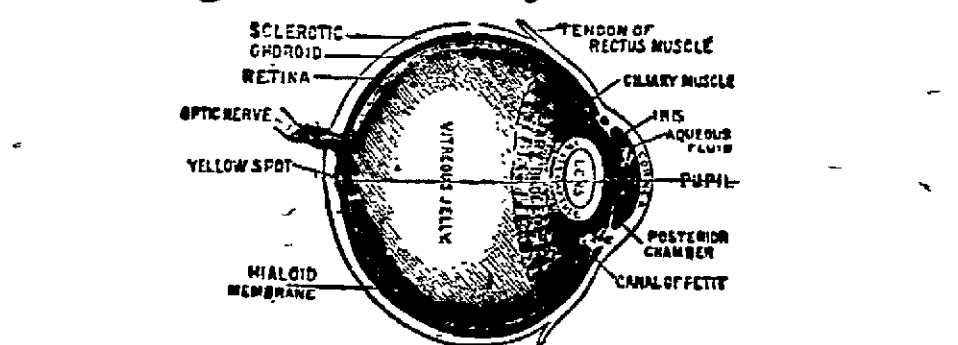

"Yes! it's all gone."

DO NOT close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. You can get rid of your rheumatism by building up your blood power. It is a fact that rheumatism means "blood poverty." It is a fact with the increase of red cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S.S.S. will help Nature build these red-blood-cells! S.S.S. is one of the most powerful blood cleansers in existence. Its results in thousands of rheumatic cases have been nothing short of amazing! The medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable. This is very important to remember! What can be more inspiring, more wonderful than to see the shackles of pain released from your struggling body, swellings, lingering pains, stiffness of joints and muscles all disappear; your stomach made strong; your face pink with the old sweetheart glow, your blood enriched and your cheeks more plump as they used to be. You can do it! Take S.S.S., the great destroyer of rheumatic impurities.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Near-Sightedness May Cause Blindness

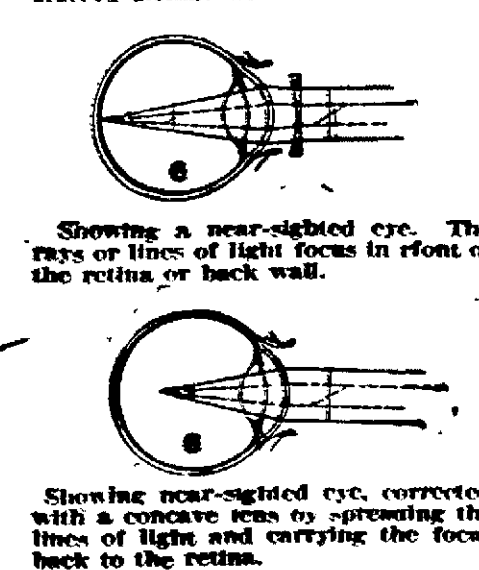

Near-Sighted Persons See Distant Objects Badly But Near Objects Well—Children Having Myopia Complain That They Cannot See the Clock Across the Room or Distinguish Writing on the Blackboard. Dr. J. D. Butler Explains Myopia by Comparing the Eye to an Egg.

The word "myopia" comes from two Greek words (myo—close and ops—eye) which means "close the eye." Myopia, called near-sightedness, is caused from the eyeball being shaped like an egg, whereas the normal eye is round like a ball.

In order to have clear vision the eye must be properly focussed the same as a kodak to get a good picture. In myopia the diameter of the eye is too long from the front to the back, and the light, after passing through the pupil, comes to a focus before it reaches the back wall of the eye, causing dim or blurred distant vision.

The symptoms of near-sightedness are: A person having it sees distant objects badly but near objects well. The nipping together of the eyelids, which is so characteristic of people suffering from myopia, and to which the trouble owes its name, slightly improves the vision. Children complain that they cannot see the clock across

Most Popular Song Hits Here

"What is the most popular musical hit?"

It is hard to say, Miss Lillian Thornton of the Frix Piano and Radio company, told a newspaper man.

"There's yes, yes in your eyes," is a catchy song hit. High school girls call for it.

"June night" is popular with the young element. So is "What I'll do."

Then there is "Georgia Lullaby" and "Tessie Stop Teasing Me." They get a "kick" out of fox trotting to these lively songs.

They will hear a song over the radio, then like it, Miss Thornton, and they will come in the next morning and ask for it." Then also, a snappy orchestra will popularize a song and the owner of a music machine will want the record, and the young girl will want the hit for her impromptu dances at home or to play on her piano.

"Peter" a fox trot that is "going great" in the east is here and it is early to say if it will elicit the same approval in Danville as elsewhere. There are no calls here yet for "Chill Bombom," a fox trot that is a howling dance hit in London and New York, according to news dispatches.

CO-OPERATIVES HAVE HEAVY DELIVERIES

RALPH, N. C., Nov. 1.—The largest deliveries of the season reached the warehouses of the Tobacco-Growers Cooperative Association this week in the Old Belt of Virginia and North Carolina, having passed the three million mark. A total of 11,800,000 pounds of tobacco has been received by the marketing association during October in western North Carolina, and Virginia, and, according to present indications, the organized growers will increase their percentage of deliveries throughout the Old Belt this season.

Since August 1, the tobacco association has gained 92 new members in three States, many farmers who were too late to sign their 1924 crop with the cooperative association having pledged their crops of 1925 and 1926.

The payment of $1,250,000 to the dark-fired tobacco growers of Virginia—which is to be made within the next two weeks, according to the association's directors will be preceded by large mass meetings at every delivery point for dark-fired tobacco in Virginia next Saturday, Nov. 8. Walton Poteet, secretary of the National Council of Cooperative Marketing associations, representing a million organized farmers of commodity-selling organizations, will address the Virginia cooperatives at Lynchburg next Saturday, and other well known leaders of the cooperative movement will be present at the state-wide meetings to which 15,000 Virginia co-ops have been invited at their delivery points. Members of the association in the dark fired tobacco district of Virginia last year delivered 59 per cent of the entire crop in their states.

GULLS EAT HOPPERS

Farmers in Pendera county, Mont., thank flocks of 400 to 500 gulls for the destruction of one of their most dangerous pests, the grasshopper. The gulls fed so extensively on the insects that few could be found in the county.

Martinsville Masons Entertain

MARTINSVILLE, Nov. 1.—The lodge room of the Royal Arch Chapter in the local Masonic Temple was the scene of one of the most enjoyable banquets Martinsville has known in a long time, Thursday evening. The chapter had invited as guests, the friends of the members, some of whom shared in furnishing the splendid program.

The hall was beautifully decorated by members of the fraternity, with Japanese lanterns, color of the Chapter and many Autumn flowers. Black and yellow cats waltzes, pumpkins, and vases of flowers decorated the large table which seated a hundred and fifty guests. Mr. T. G. Burch served as toastmaster. Commending the chapter for its proper address of welcome, spoke of the service rendered Masonry by the women of America.

The toastmaster called for a vote of appreciation of Mrs. H. B. Hundley, who had made the first gift to the Temple, and whose husband for years was one of the outstanding Master Masons of the State. There were several musical numbers given by the male quartette, I. M. Groves, C. W. Holt, J. D. Sparrow and F. P. Poole, and vocal solos by Mrs. C. T. Womack and Miss Elizabeth Womack with Mrs. W. P. Hodnett at the piano. Dr. Mary L. Griffith gave an interesting reading "How the horse won the bet," which the banqueters enjoyed very much.

Among the speakers of the occasion were the Rev. Charles W. Wales, pastor of the Broad Street Christian church, whose subject was "Mandmarks of Masonry." Congressman Murray Hooker talked on "Fraternism and Dr. J. P. McCabe, spoke on the Temple of Solomon.

HISTORIC HAMLET USED IN "AMERICA"

Yorktown, historic Virginia hamlet of Revolutionary fame, nesting on the James River is aroused. For its few hundred inhabitants, who hitherto have counted the passage of time by the two great events of its career—its place in Revolutionary history and the establishment of a submarine mine base nearby during the World War—what they consider the third outstanding event of history—the filming there by D. W. Griffith of scenes for "America."

And now Yorktown wants to become a second Hollywood.

Historic houses, standing since 1770, formerly pointed out to visitors as the places where Washington slept, ate, or visited, are now proudly exhibited as the mansions where Griffith took such and such a scene, with various local dignitaries, Revolutionary descendants—as actors.

The quaint old church, practically unchanged since the first service was held there in the early '70's is today locally more famous as the place where Griffith and his staff attended a Sunday service than as the meeting house where Washington's staff once knelt in prayer.

There is no newspaper in Yorktown, but the intimate details of the scenes Griffith made, of how he and every member of his large company looked, acted, and what they said and ate is known to every inhabitant.

Motion pictures are the sole topic of conversation, and their participation in the film which D. W. Griffith made is the proudest boast of the oldest families.

Even the departure of Griffith and his cohorts failed to bring normalcy back to this once slumbering, now ambitious, hamlet.

No Overlapping With City Budget

The tremendous growth, during the past two years of the financial federation or as it is more commonly known the Community Chest plan is due in a great measure to its economic aspect, according to Harvey Leeborn an authority on the subject.

"Through the operation of the financial federation, the community is able to balance its social needs with the budgets of the organized agencies designed to meet these needs; and the opportunity is given for each agency to obtain its share of financial assistance. The annual study and analysis of the budgetary needs of the organizations makes possible and the intelligent consideration as to overlapping and duplication in the activities of the agencies. This opportunity for an accurate knowledge of the community's social needs, and a means of meeting them in their logical order, present to the general public a more orderly plan than is otherwise possible.

Federated Financing

Federated financing almost inevitably results in the organization of the community and its resources for a continuous study of its social needs and problems, if for no other reason than for the sake of intelligent discussion of the budgets of the various agencies. Inevitably when agencies meet to discuss needs, budgets and programs, they learn something from each other, an opportunity that is rarely utilized as effectively as under the system of raising one's problems around the common money counter.

"The publicity and educational work of the federation has a large influence not only in spreading knowledge of and interest in the various social agencies, but in creating an attitude of community responsibility for their social and civic work. It makes it evident even to the man on the street that the insuring of human welfare is one big problem to be solved in a big community way rather than by a series of unrelated small ways.

"The large number of contributors secured by the community chest plan is but one manifestation of this educational effort. The house-to-house canvases and the large numbers of volunteer workers enlisted in the annual campaigns are a definite element in spreading knowledge of the work and the needs of the various agencies.

"The united campaign is really an annual public review of the city's welfare forces."

BEN DICKERSON WINS HONOR FROM STUDENTS

Many friends of Ben Dickerson, who resides on Jefferson Street, this city, will doubtless be interested in knowing that he has been chosen one of the two student-delegates chosen by the 300 Baptists of the University of Virginia to represent them at the State Sunday school convention to be held in Richmond at the time of the meeting of the General Association of Virginia in that city. It is regarded as a distinction for him to be thus honored.

TEACHER BEARS WITNESS OF CHILDREN'S SENSE OF JUSTICE

LONDON, Nov. 1.—The record of Miss Margaret J. Williams, a Richmond school teacher, who has capped only one pupil during a teaching career of 20 years, is rather unique in this country where pedagogues still accept the old adage, "spare the rod and spoil the child." When some kind of punishment becomes necessary Miss Williams usually writes to the mothers and obtains their consent before it is given. "I hardly ever do punish them," she said, "but when I do I make it a rule to hear their side of the question first. I recognize that they have a side. No one, you know, has so exact a sense of justice as a child. And I always wait till my temper cools down before I do anything."

IS THIS Your BIRTHDAY

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 3—Deep of nature, calm and serene, you must learn to not look ahead and court trouble by anticipating it.

Indications are that you will be very successful in business adventures, not in the regular channels, but through something entirely new and original which you will initiate. You have a vivid imagination, which if properly controlled and cultivated will stand you in good stead. You are very affectionate, capable of giving much love, and you demand much in return. Children born on this day are of a poetic nature.

WIFE'S LOVER SHOT

BUDAPEST—A finance councillor named Kotanka overheard a telephone conversation between his wife and Colonel Valerian. He went to the rendezvous himself in the principal street of Budapest and fired three revolve shots at the handsome Hussar colonel in the presence of his wife.

He has satisfied the police that his motive was not dishonorable and has been allowed to remain at liberty though the colonel is dead and his wife is mad.

OFFICERS SWEAR NOT TO JOIN SECRET SOCIETIES

DUBLIN, Nov. 1.—In the presence of President Cosgrave and his colleagues of the Executive Council, the new oath of allegiance, which the Army act of 1924 requires all officers to take, was administered to the chief officers of the Defence Forces at Government Buildings.

Chiropractic For This and That

QUESTION—"I do not understand how it is that you can cure me of Diabetes when I have been told that my case is not curable. How do you explain?"

ANSWER—"Publicity and the fact of reputation is the only thing that will drive a man to believe in a cure. That's why we repeat again and again that Chiropractic Adjustments properly administered will correct the REAL CAUSE of diabetes conditions. The CAUSE of so-called Diabetes is the same CAUSE that exists in ALL diseased conditions, namely impingement of spinal nerves cutting off transmission of functional energy to the organs involved. Until you get this fact firmly fixed in your mind, then, and only then, will you have a correct understanding of our wonderful science. If Chiropractic will correct the CAUSE of your disease, what difference does it make as to what NAME has been attached to it? Have your spine analyzed to reveal this CAUSE. Then place yourself unreservedly under Adjustments to adjust this cause. Your first step toward getting well is to—

Everyman's Investments
By George T. Hughes

PRESENT RATES OF INTEREST

Many investors begin their statement of requirements with the rate of interest they think they must have. It may be 6 or 7 or 8 or any other per cent. At the same time they insist that their first need is safety. Now the return that one is able to obtain on invested funds varies not only with the character of the security but with general market conditions. It may be helpful to state just what yields are possible at the present time on the various grades.

First, then, Liberty bonds, the standard by which all other investments are measured, all sell to yield less than 4 per cent. The savings bank pays more than this, or at least most of them do. The Liberty bond has the advantage of being saleable at any time without loss of interest. The savings bank deposit has the advantage of never fluctuating in market price. The very highest grade of railroad mortgage bond, such as the Pullman, yields 4 1/2 to 5 per cent. on the investment. High-grade utility bonds are obtainable at prices to give 5 per cent. or a little more. About the same amount may be had from railroad equipment certificates which offer a high degree of safety. The security of these certificates is the equipment itself, the credit of the issuing railroad.

Now the average small investor will not content himself with any of these. He wants more for his money and just here is where it becomes absolutely necessary to exercise discrimination. There are plenty of good bonds to yield from 5 1/2 to 6 per cent. but care is needed in selecting them. And when one goes above that rate a certain degree of risk is assumed. Other things being equal, you can get a higher return on a slowly marketable security than on one which is actively traded in on the exchanges. But expert advice is even more needed with the comparatively unmarketable bond than with the latter. In the case of the latter the daily quotation is a sort of guide to its rating. You have no such guide when your bond is not frequently bought and sold.

The moral again is that investors who go outside the limits of the extremely conservative securities enumerated above must have the benefit of expert advice before they intrust their money to someone else's keeping. (Mr. Hughes' next article will appear in The Bee next Wednesday.)

LA FOLLETTE SPENDING DAY ON HIS FARM

Expresses Gratification Over Late Reports From His Supporters

(By The Associated Press.)
MADISON, Wis., Nov. 3.—Senator Robert M. La Follette, resting today at his home on Maple Bluff farm, after a month of strenuous campaigning, expressed gratification over late reports from supporters of his presidential candidacy throughout the country.

Combined with an expression of confidence in the outcome of the election, was an appeal to the electorate to "increase the progressive group in Congress."

Senator La Follette's homecoming yesterday, his first visit to Madison since his nomination for the presidency in July, was made a gala occasion by friends and supporters from all sections of the State.

A crowd of several thousands greeted him with cheers at the railroad station. An impromptu parade centered about his automobile and thousands of townspeople shrieked their welcome along the route to the La Follette homestead, three miles from the city.

Pausing at the insistence of the throng massed at the State capitol, where he was presented to the assembly by Governor John J. Blaine, Senator La Follette expressed his pleasure at being back among all "you folks." He will rest at his farm until after the election.

Senator La Follette, with members of his family, will receive election returns in the governor's suite in the Capitol, Tuesday night.

MORNING STOCK LETTER.

(Thomson & McKinnon)
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—A month's absence from the activities of our stock market—an opportunity to get the perspective from a distance—has served to strengthen the conviction that we are at the inception of a prolonged period of prosperity. The election tomorrow of Coolidge and Dawes by an overwhelming vote will mark the real beginning because of restored confidence. Capital will no longer be timid. The laborer has his share in getting his. Add to these capital's willingness to assume the normal risks of business and you have an irresistible triumvirate working in harmony, bringing peace and plenty to every home. After the election some may take profits, many may do so. This is one of the uncertainties of every market. But keep in mind that every profit taking session is an opportunity to buy good stocks at concessions and a good stock will bring in half the profit.

EARTH FROM EVERY STATE

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 1.—A few cubic inches of earth taken from the front yard of the grounds where reposes the White House of the Confederacy here is now en route to Racine, Wis., where it is to be planted in memory of the Old Dominion men who gave their lives in the World War, according to Secretary Mullins of the police force, who said he had received the request from Racine where a woman's organization has been sponsoring the movement, bringing a bit of earth from every state in the Union.

MORNING GRAIN LETTER.

(Thomson & McKinnon)
CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Saturday's wheat market was one of poor demand. Today's market is likely to be of same sort and may meet more liquidation. There must be a return of foreign demand or unfavorable news from Argentina before market will regain tone.
